3 – The Votes

Our Jurors have worked on the Submission for three months, casting three electronic votes in order to arrive at the Longlist (51), Shortlist (20) and Winners (8).

Votes were expressed numerically and cast electronically. Jurors received alphabetical results only. The counter was set to zero at each vote.

The Prize Chair and the Prize Secretaries had non-voting roles throughout. The Jurors cleared any conflict of interests issues on accepting to serve on one of the 3 Juries.

8 – The Award Ceremony

Speaking in Cultures, Keynote Speaker Pulitzer Prize Winner Jhumpa Lahiri
The Garden Lobby, Scottish Parliament, Wednesday 26 June, 6-8pm

The Edinburgh SIS Biennial Conference, Wednesday 26 June-Friday 28 June

Speaking in Cultures is sponsored by the Edinburgh Gadda Prize and the Vittoria Group Edinburgh.

For our sixth edition, Speaking in Cultures, we have partnered with Italian Studies at the University of Edinburgh and the Society for Italian Studies UK. Together, we are hosting the Society's Biennial Conference in Scotland's capital city, bringing a celebration of intercultural dialogue to the Scottish Parliament to mark the Official Opening of the Society's Biennial in the Centenary of Italian at Edinburgh.

One hundred forty-seven monographs on all aspects of contemporary Italian culture were entered in this year's competition. Over three hundred delegates will attend the Biennial Conference of the Society for Italian Studies UK. Thirty distinguished international scholars have served as Prize Jurors. Italian Studies at Edinburgh is one hundred this year.

The dynamism of our discipline is just one of the messages we will put across on the night. Generating new synergies and opportunities for dialogue has been at the heart of the Edinburgh Gadda Projects since their inception in 2000. In line with our mission, as part of this year's edition of the Prize we want to celebrate what it takes to speak and live more fluently in cultures – something we believe is critical to the future of our society, especially in times of fast and unpredictable cultural change.

After the formal Welcome by our Host MSP Linda Fabiani and her Guests of Honour – the Principal of the University of Edinburgh Professor Peter Mathieson, the Italian Consul General for Scotland and Northern Ireland Fabio Monaco, and the President of the Society for Italian Studies UK Professor Simon Gilson (Oxford) – Pulitzer Prize Winner Professor Jhumpa Lahiri (Princeton) will be invited to deliver her Keynote Address on becoming ambassadors for intercultural exchange and to give us a sense of where individual vision and aspiration can take us in our commitment to a world better ready for cultural diversity.

Jhumpa Lahiri's Keynote will be followed by the Award Ceremony of this year's Edinburgh Prizes – The Crolla Amato Gadda Prize (Cultural Studies; Literary Studies) and the Vittoria Group Prize (Scholars aged 40 or under).
